You may have seen him on The Blue Collar Comedy Tour, TBS's The Bill Engvall Show, or CMT's Country Fried Home Videos, but you haven't heard him like this! Bill Engvall's down-home wit and blue-collar charm have made him one of today's most popular and successful comedians.

This benefit show honors Janet Engvall McTigue, former Executive Director of Georgetown Area United Way, and her strong commitment to strengthening nonprofit agencies serving the people of Williamson County. At the show, the Engvall family will present a local nonprofit agency with the Janet Engvall McTigue Award, a $10,000 award that offers an opportunity for a local organization to advance excellence within their organization.

Over many years Janet worked to help the neediest within our communities, both through her efforts with United Way and by her direct engagement with individuals and organizations to advance the common good. Janet's brother, Bill Engvall, Jr., said, "My family and I are honored that an award has been established in my sister's name. Janet had an amazing commitment to serving those in need and she would be happy to know this cash award will help a local nonprofit do even more for the people in Williamson County. I know Janet would be proud."
